JASON COLEMAN & MEAGAN TAYLOR

Jason and Meagan's paths first crossed only in recent years, but their musical styles were compatible from the very beginning – although it's really no surprise, considering the musical relationship shared by their predecessors. The two currently perform together in venues both large and small, reviving the beloved sound left behind by Floyd and Chet, and delighting audiences with their timeless music. Jason and Meagan recorded their debut album as a duo, Revival, at Historic RCA Studio B in Nashville – the very same studio where Floyd and Chet spent many of their early years making countless hit records.
